HACK A GAME

What playful experience could you recreate

with your own spin?

What are the mechanics, rules for play, that could teach something in a new way?

What could you learn from this game?

What would this new game

look like?

How would it work?

EXISTING GAME

What games are you seeing differently now?

Which games can make learning more purposeful and fun?

What is something this game teaches that you hadn't realized before?

Who is one person you could share this

AHA!

with and then invite to join you in game play?

CREATE A NEW GAME

If you had a magic wand and could create the ultimate game, what would it be?

Who would you co-create this game with?

What skills would you need?

What would this new game teach?

How can make sure this game is inclusive

of all possible players?
